

The Importance of Trees to You and Your Community; How Trees Pay Us Back

FREE PRESENTATION

Trees are often taken for granted, but they play an important role in the city's infrastructure and the residents' well being.

Research has come a long way and it is now possible to quantify the environmental, health and economic benefits derived by the trees in a community. Learn how trees are improving your health, boosting the value of your property and even increasing the city's prosperity. This educational presentation is a great way to learn about the value trees add to the community and why they are a valued component of a community's green infrastructure.

This free presentation will be led by Bill Lawrence, president of ReLeaf Michigan, owner of Urban Forestry Consulting of Ann Arbor and retired city forester of Ann Arbor.

All are welcome.
